Go Orderly and Get Involved

Go Orderly was founded in early 2008 by quadriplegic Kevin Funk and long-time orderly Jeff Middleton. During the course of their work and daily lives, they saw a need within the community for something more than just transportation.

Being a citizen means being able to participate in the community. It means being included with family, friends and neighbours in the events that matter to you. It means building personal connections with the world around us that make us feel like we're part of something bigger. That's not just about transportation. It's about being active, being involved and living life.

That's the vision for Go Orderly; a world where people can choose to participate in all of life's events because the mobility and convenience are there to make it happen.

We also offer an in-home orderly service, including dressing, grooming, bathroom calls, meal preparation and transfers.
